Rich,

Ex. 4 - CBI was working on that spreadsheet already. I will give her the spreadsheet is sent you and she will combine it with what she was working on and get it to you when it is completed.

Ex. 4 - CBI

Can you include the residents name, and all metals and anion and cations into one spreadsheet please? I need this document as soon as you can fit it in....

Please call me on my mobile number below with any questions.

Sorry Ex. 4 - CBI I thought it was you who showed me how to turn of the boxes....

I tried you directions below and they didn't work... don't worry about it. they are just a minor annoyance..

Rich,

Not sure it was me that showed you how to do it, but think I know how to turn it off. First highlight Row 1 and the click on "Data" in the header on Excel. Under Data Tools you should see a Data Validation box. Under the "Settings" menu you should see the word "Allow:" with a drop down menu below it. Click on drop down menu and select "Any Value", it is probably set to the word "List" currently.

Ex. 4 - CBI you showed my how to turn off the little arrow in the box last week and I have forgotten how this was down. Could you please tell me again?
thanks
Rich

I am talking about the small box in the lower right hand corner of the boxes in row 1...
